Mountain Marvels

Before You Go

A scenic view of a mountain range with a lake and a road winding through the forest. The foreground shows large, grey, moss-covered rocks and green bushes with small red flowers. The middle ground features a dense green forest covering the slopes of the mountains. A winding road and a small lake are visible in the valley. The background shows distant, hazy mountain ranges under a clear sky.

Land Acknowledgement

We recognize that some of the stops listed in this trip date back to a time when not everyone was free.

As we acknowledge slavery and its impact on our history, we recognize the profound inequalities and systemic racism it has bred. This horrific institution dehumanized millions, leaving lasting social and economic consequences. Confronting these truths allows us to reflect, foster dialogue, and work towards a more just society. As you travel, we encourage you to inquire about this history, and ask sites to prominently display their history and its ongoing impact, ensuring it is neither overlooked nor diminished.
